

HUB Electronics REACH statement

HUB Electronics Ltd as an independent distributor of electro-mechanical and electronic components. 'supplier of Articles'. HUB Electronics Ltd understand our REACH obligations in our role as "Supplier" of articles under the terms of the REACH regulation.

We stock and distribute finished electro-mechanical interconnection products, components and associated products referred to as 'Articles' as defined in REACH 3(3).

We therefor undertake to work with our suppliers and manufacturing partners to supply products to the latest REACH candidate listing <https://echa.europa.eu/candidate-list-table>

We further electronically record RoHS & REACH product status at inbound inspection point and carry forward to our outgoing certification as appropriate. Individual product and /or supplier REACH information can be supplied to request. We are in regular contact with our suppliers and manufacturing partners to request updated REACH statements and information as necessary in order to provide latest information flow down to our customers.

Any amendments / additions to this statement are added to our terms and conditions of supply via www.hubelectronics.co.uk

This REACH statement and in-house processes are reviewed regularly in order to comply with our obligations as can be reasonably expected within the component supply chain.
